

Mural Weekend Retreat

Easy weekend rundown

Hey friends!

We're pumped to have you with us for a super fun, creative weekend.

Here's the no-stress rundown of how it's all going to go.

Thursday night: roll in + say hi

Come whenever you can Thursday evening, get settled, find your room, and swing by for a relaxed meet-and-greet.

We'll have wine, good vibes, and a chance to meet everyone before we jump into the fun.

If you can't get here until Friday morning, that's totally fine, just make sure you're here by 9:30 AM for the first workshop.

Friday: paint play, then spray + Meta goggles

- Breakfast bar is ready by 7:00 AM, and the coffee bar is always open.
- Friday morning with Cindy: the try-everything session (paints, brushes, pens, and surfaces).
- Lunch around noon at the guesthouse, then back to the studio.
- Friday afternoon with Tony + Meta goggles: spray cans, caps, layering, then trace designs onto canvas or polytab panels and start painting.
- Friday night: group dinner (Art's firing up the BBQ), then chill or head back into the studio. The studio is open 24/7.
- Friendly heads-up: Saturday starts at 9:30 AM too.

Saturday: spray cans vs spray guns (and stencils that actually help)

- After breakfast, we're back at it at 9:30 AM in the studio with Tony and Jody.
- They'll break down spray cans vs spray guns, plus practical workflow tips.
- Jody will also cover stencils that actually help, and how to use them without frustration.
- Quick lunch break, then more hands-on time. Dinner together that night, and open studio again.

Sunday: finish up + watch a real install

- Sunday is your wrap-it-up-and-make-it-awesome day.
- You'll work on your polytab pieces to take home, with instructors nearby for feedback and help.
- Cindy will show how she installs a polytab element on an exterior wall (really cool to see in real life).
- We'll do a quick wrap-up and feedback session, then one last group dinner.
- After that, hang out, keep creating, or head home, whatever feels right. Breakfast will be available in the morning, and you can head out whenever you're ready.

Can't wait to spend the weekend with you!
